

Dr. Hamza Khshaifaty
ELI Director
King Abdul-Aziz University - Jeddah

Dear Dr Khshaifaty

On behalf of our Middle East editing& publishing team, I would like to extend our special thanks and gratitude to King Abdul Aziz University for their feedback and participation in bringing out the world's most popular Academic preparation English skills series, Interactions, to its Middle East Gold Edition.

Your support and continuous feedback have helped make the series more appropriate culturally for Gulf students in general and Saudi students in particular. The success of the Middle East Gold Edition series was above and beyond any other academic preparation English series in the Gulf region.

I am glad to inform you that, to the best of our knowledge, the following, amongst others, universities and institutions are/will be widely using the Middle East Gold Edition in their English teaching programs.

There are many other institutions which have already joined the club in utilizing this edition in their language programs. We are also awaiting to hear about new adoptions from other academic institutions in the Gulf currently reviewing or piloting the program. These will be disclosed later in due course and we will not hesitate to acknowledge your relentless support and diligent efforts to make the series truly appropriate to students in the Gulf.

Many thanks for the time and trust you invested in the McGraw-Hill Interactions, Middle East Gold Edition.

I wish you your very best for yet another highly successful academic year ahead

Sincerely yours,

Imad Moutaweh
